A Way to Be Happy! Follow This Shopper To the Only McNichol!

"It's my delight," said Mrs. Bright, "To stop where I know that things are right. I'm not too rich in silver shekels; But little buys much at Mc Nichols.
Blankets—the best you ever saw—
Warm, fleecy, smooth, without a flaw;
Such as are pleasant to the touch— So cheap-you know that counts so much.

"Nice comforts, too-not like spun lead— So bright and pretty on the bed, I've gone the shoppers' rounds of late; Here you get served—don't have to wait; No matter what your state or dress, Politeness wins me, I confess. McNichols' lifetime record shows He treats alike the Highs and Lows.

"One gets attached to household traps; Old carpets, which have lost their naps— Old rugs, which trip you every step— Old curtains—faded, dingy rep; But once you enter at this door The old appeals to you no more. Such pretty things on every side. It kind of wakes your sleeping pride.

"It costs so little at this place To drape your windows all with lace; To cover all floors as you should, Or buys rugs for the polished wood. It pays to get the old things out-Not keep so many germs about. Keep all your family well—you can By getting new things with this plan.

Head of United States Army Will Be Guest of Exposition.

PROGRAMME IS COMPLETED.

Elaborate Ceremonies at Inauguration of World's Fair-Luncheon for 1,000 in Palace Varied Industries.

The Committee on Ceremonies of the Louislang Purchase Exposition announced yesterday that General Adna Chaffee, Chief of Staff of the United States Army would be present at the opening of the World's Fair, April 30.

General Chaffee, with Captain Hutcheson as his aid, will accompany Secretary of War Taft to St. Louis and with him will view the opening ceremonies of the will view the opening ceremonies of the Fair.

The addition of General Chaffes to the list of distinguished men who will attend the World's Fair's opening was quite unexpected, even to the Exposition management, as the War Department had not given any previous notification that it contemplated sending the head of the army in company with Secretary Taft.

General Chaffee will be the guest of General Bates while in St. Louis. A committee, composed of members of the permanent Reception Committee, will meet Secretary Taft, General Chaffee and their escorts at Union Station, and will accompany them to the home of General Bates. The committee will remain with the distinguished guests until the time arrives to escort them to the Exposition grounds.

The Committee on Ceremonies yesterday amounced the detailed programme of inceremonies on the opening day. At the Fair grounds Secretary Taft and General Chaffee will be escorted by cavairy, as will the congressional delegation.

An addition to the original programme is a luncheon that will be served for 1,000 persons in the Palace of Varled Industries. The complete programme for the opening day, as outlined by the committee yesterday, is as follows:

DEATH SENTENCE; BARRINGTON WEPT

Convicted Slaver of James P. Mc-Oann Received Comfort From Spiritual Adviser-Case Appealed.

Frederick Seymour Barrington wept in court yesterday after Judge John W. Mc-Elhinney had sentenced him to be hanged in Clayton on June 14. Turning to his spiritual adviser, the Reverend H. C. St. Clair, pastor of Trinity Episcopal Church, at Channing and Franklin avenues, the convicted prisoner shed tears while he drooped his head in sorrow. The minister comforted him as Obedient to the order of the court, Barrington stood up and was asked if he had any reason to offer why sentence should not be pronounced on him. He replied that he would defer to the wish of his counsel and let him speak for him. Then ie dropped back in his chair. He reasserted that he was innocent.

Immediately after sentence was pro-nounced attorneys Grover and Jones filed the usual statutory affidavit for an appeal to the Supreme Court. Execution will be stayed until after that tribunal passes on the merits of the evidence in the trial on the merits of the evidence in an account.

Attorney Grover asked until August to perfect his bill of exceptions. The court replied that it was his intention to adjourn the term about July 29, and asked that the record be gotten in shape by that time. This would bring the appeal before the October term of the Supreme Court. Grover had expected it to come in the January term.

Grover had expected it to come in the January term.

As Barrington is practically insolvent, the court ordered the stenographer to furnish a transgript of his notes for his (the court's) use, but the defendant will be permitted to avail himself of them. The transcripts will cost about $1,500. By that time the costs of the case will probably exceed $5,000.

Refrained From Drinking Poison. Mabel Schofield of Venice, Ill., who left the Imperial Theater on Friday night and the Imperial Theater on Friday light and purchased a bottle of laudanum, a portion of which she took in her mouth but did not swallow, was released from the City Hospital yesterday morning without hav-ing even been subjected to the ordinary treatment for laudanum poisoning.

ROUND ROBIN TO MANAGEMENT

Exposition Officials Think Charge of $1 Reasonable and Lower Than That at Other Fairs.

Foreign Commissioners General to the World's Fair are again standing on their rights and those of their constituents as relating to the Exposition management. This time the Commissioners have locked horns with the Fair officials on the question of obliging foreign exhibitors to pay for their photographic passes into the Fair

Having gained their point recently in the matter of not requiring the Commissioners themselves to be photographed for their passes, the Commissioners have tiken up the cudgel for the exhibitors of their passes, the Commissioners have taken up the cudgel for the exhibitors of their respective countries.

Although the Exposition management recently reduced the fee for taking photographs for passes, the Commissioners think that foreign exhibitors should not be required to pay anything for having their photographs taken for their passes.

A round robin to the Exposition management, signed by most of the foreign Commissioners now here, has been forwarded to the management, reaching the Administration building hast Monday. It is understood that the missive conveyed in diplomatic terms the opinions of the Commissioners.

The round robin followed a note of inquiry sent to President Francis by Commissioner General Watson of Great Britain, in which information was requested as to the pass regulations in regard to British exhibitors. This note was answered by the Exposition management and the rules cited on the subject.

Exposition officials, while averse to discussing the matter of the round robin, say that there never was a great international exposition of the charge at St. Louis, they say, is merely nominal and is lower than that at any former international exposition.

CHAMPAGNE WILL FLOW IN BELGIUM'S PAVILION.

Exposition Officials Will Drink to Health of King Leopold-Many Social Functions Planned.

World's Fair ataches are receiving scores of invitations to social affairs.

These documents are now the property of the Historical Society of New Orleans and were secured through the effort of Mass Florence Hayward, who is in charge of the historical section of the World's Fair.

Miss Hayward received a letter from Caspar Cusachs, a member of the New Orleans Historical Society, yesterday, in which he informed her that the Board of Directors of the society had decided to allow the documents to be sent to the Lutisana Purchase Exposition.

"This is the first time that the documents have ever been allowed to be sent out of New Orleans," said Mr. Cusachs, "and so highly are they prized that there was much opposition to the suggestion."

The contribution to the World's Fair by the New Orleans society will include ten volumes of the city archives, containing the original Louislana Transfer documents, and fifteen volumes, containing various Louislama historical papers, some of which are very unique.

A nainting from life of Governor Clai-A painting from life of Governor Clai-borne, the first Governor of the Louisiana Territory, and Judah P. Benjamin, a mem-ber of Jefferson Davis's Cabinet, and a famous Confederate, are also numbered in the collection.
